What is ISP license?

- The Government of India has allowed Private Sector's Company to apply for Internet Service Provider (ISP) License to start their own ISP Business. This license is commonly known as Unified License (UL). Private Sector Company's can apply for ISP license for different areas under Unified License.
- It is mandatory for Company to have UL ISP for providing ISP services for a certain area. Validity for this license is 20 years.

Why do you need an ISP license?

- Issuing Authority – Department of Telecommunication Delhi.
- This license is needed for running Internet services or Data services in India.
- You can provide internet services like Leased Line/Broadband /VOIP /IP TV etc.

How to Apply for an ISP License?

- To apply an ISP license in India, you need a registered company under the Companies Act, 2013. Registration SEVA can also help you in getting the Company registered. Company can be a Private Limited Company or Public Limited Company.
- It is mandatory that in MOA it should mention Internet Service Provider (ISP) as a service.

Categories of ISP License

- Select the category in which you want to apply for the UL ISP License, opt between A, B or C category. The three different categories of VNO ISP license in India are bifurcated by Dot.
- Country is divided into 24 Service Areas consisting of 20 Telecom Circle Service and 4 Metro Service Areas for Category "B" 322 Secondary Switching Areas for Category "C" UL ISP license is cheapest for class C.

ISP license - 3 Categories

- Category A – All India Level - (National Area). This license is for Pan India operations.
- Category B – State Level (Telecom Circle /Metro circle) - Class B license is issued for a total of 20 major states or any of the following Metro Cities – Mumbai, New Delhi, Kolkata, Chennai, Bengaluru, Pune, Hyderabad and Ahmedabad.

ISP license - 3 Categories

- Category C – SSA (Secondary Switching Area) -
This license is for only a particular secondary switching area. A secondary switching area is a government defined territory which could comprise of several small villages, towns or even districts. A class C license holder will have access to any 1 particular SSA only, unless he applies for multiple authorizations under one unified License.
